

A social network you have to show up to.

The big questions tell you who someone is, so we start there — then we eat.
Friendship, except you find out what people actually think first.

Think out loud. Then eat.

The room splits in two. You're handed a side, you argue it — then you swap and argue the other one. No expertise needed. Nobody's opinion is on the line.

what we're talking about this time

- Is justice real?
- Should Alberta separate from Canada?
- Should the Water Not Coal question be on the referendum?
- Can the police commissioner strike question time from meetings?
- Should Canadian police require a university degree?

when

Saturday, July 25

doors 1:30 · we start talking at 2:00

where

Ashtanga Shala, Edmonton

10026 102 Street NW · T5J 0V6

then

Pizza at FN'ZA, all together

1939 Jasper Ave — this part is the point

donations welcome to the Box Fraise Legal Justice Fund

We're raising to pay for haircuts for people without homes, and honoraria for the legal professionals who speak here.

A project of Rajzyngier Research, a private legal research lab.

fraise.box